Challenge

Brady sheds light on the company's evolution, "With our expanding business, our existing system seemed inadequate, particularly in inventory management, bill of materials, and operational procedures. We sought accurate costing, lot tracking, and a unified system to reduce manual work and minimize errors. In our pursuit to offer effective and affordable solutions, we required a software partner that resonated with our values and met our budget."

A comprehensive online search led them to Software Advice, which provided a curated list of potential vendors. While numerous products stood out, the choice was still an intricate process.

Why Aquilon ERP?

Aquilon ERP emerged as the front-runner due to its alignment with Genesis Chemicals' specific requirements. Not only did it cater to their software needs, but it also effortlessly integrated with their existing hardware, all within the allocated budget.

Outcomes

Brady, having a sound knowledge of technology, swiftly adapted to the software. For those less tech-savvy, Aquilon's responsive support team was readily available. One of the standout features of Aquilon ERP was its precision-driven costing system, which used up to six decimals for both quantity and cost determinations, vastly improving cost and inventory accuracy.

Furthermore, its real-time inventory framework, along with the replenishment and production planning worksheets, has immensely enhanced inventory management. Brady notes, "Aquilon has empowered us to better our gross margin to working capital ratio."

Final Thoughts

Genesis Chemicals found value in Aquilon's holistic manufacturing solution, where everything was incorporated into a single system, eliminating data redundancy. Reflecting on the journey, Brady concludes, "Given the chance to decide again, Aquilon ERP would still be our top pick."
